

500 Mbps fiber optic cable

Overview

Virtually every cable, fiber optic provider now offers speed tiers up to 500 Mbps and 1 Gig in most regions: Standalone pricing runs $50-80 for 500 Mbps, while 1 Gig commands roughly a 30% premium around $70-120 monthly. But how fast is fiber internet, and what do speeds like 500 Mbps, 1 Gbps, 2 Gbps, or even 5 Gbps actually mean for you?

Unlike cable or DSL, which often slow down during peak hours, fiber delivers lightning-fast speeds with unmatched reliability. On the other end of the spectrum, Google Fiber's plans start at 1 Gig. What Does Internet Speed Actually Mean?

Internet speed refers to how much data can be transferred over your connection in a given amount of time. Measured in megabits per. The 500 Mb service does not. Nothing really heavy in terms of bandwidth. Sign up for Frontier Fiber 500 Internet to get 500 Mbps speeds for high-quality streaming, gaming, and work-from-home.
