Suppliers and Online Options

Several suppliers and online platforms offer fiberglass cable trays in the Philippines: Lazada Philippines provides a variety of FRP cable trays with nationwide shipping and discounts, suitable for small to medium projects. Local manufacturers and distributors such as RMRE Electric, LJ Industrial, Gentec Group, and AWS Gentec supply high-quality cable trays for industrial and commercial applications, often offering customization for size and load requirements.

Considerations for Procurement

When purchasing anti-corrosion fiberglass cable trays, consider the following: Material quality: Ensure the FRP trays meet international standards for corrosion resistance and load-bearing capacity. Tray type: Ladder trays allow better ventilation and heat dissipation, while solid or perforated trays may be used for specific cable protection needs. Supplier reliability: Import-dependent products require suppliers with proven export experience to ensure timely delivery and compliance with Philippine Electrical Code standards.

Project scale: Minimum order quantities (MOQ) may vary; some suppliers allow orders as small as 1 meter or 1 piece, which is useful for prototypes or small installations.

Summary

For anti-corrosion fiberglass cable trays in the Philippines, expect prices from around ₱1,310 to ₱5,300 per piece, with variations depending on size, type, and supplier. For large-scale or critical installations, sourcing from reputable local manufacturers or verified online platforms ensures quality, compliance, and durability in corrosive environments.
