Factors Affecting Price
• Material Grade: Higher-grade aluminum alloys like 6063-T6 are more expensive due to superior strength and corrosion resistance.

• Tray Type: Ladder trays are generally more robust and may cost more than wire mesh or perforated trays.

• Dimensions: Width, height, and length of trays directly influence material cost.

• Customization: OEM/ODM orders or special finishes (anodizing, fire resistance) can increase price.

• Order Volume: Bulk purchases often qualify for discounts.
How to Obtain a Quote
• Contact suppliers directly through their websites (Alibaba, Made-in-China, Apextray, Powerack, Cabletraygi) and provide specifications such as tray type, dimensions, material grade, and quantity.

• Request OEM or factory-direct pricing if customization is required.

• Ask for samples to verify quality before placing large orders. By providing these details, suppliers can generate accurate price quotes tailored to your project requirements.
