• RS Components Ireland Provides a broad selection of cable management solutions, including wire trays, cable baskets, and tray-type cable trays. They cater to both commercial and industrial needs with online ordering and delivery .
Considerations for Procurement
• Material and Finish: Choose between galvanized steel, stainless steel, or powder-coated trays depending on environmental conditions and load requirements.

• Tray Type: Ladder, perforated, or solid-bottom trays are available; selection depends on cable type, ventilation needs, and installation environment.

• Customization: Some suppliers, like Niedax, offer custom dimensions and fittings to suit specific project layouts.

• Delivery and Support: Ensure the supplier provides nationwide delivery and technical support for installation guidance.

• Compliance: Verify that the trays meet Irish and EU electrical safety standards for industrial or commercial installations. By comparing these suppliers and considering material, type, and customization options, you can efficiently procure tray-type cable trays suitable for your project in Ireland.
